2. 18.11.2008 Heard.

The petitioner is the husband who was married to the complainant just one year prior to the filing of the complaint. The allegation is that for not getting the additional dowry in the form of Rs. One lack, a colour T.V. and a freeze, she was ill-treated, tortured and ultimately expelled from the matrimonial house.

The rejection order passed by the Additional Sessions Judge, Barh, contains the record of certain facts, like, entering into an agreement between all the accused while the prayer for bail of the father of the petitioner, namely, Kameshwar Singh was pending and not adhering to the terms thereof. The learned Judge had the circumstances including the behaviour of the petitioner and his family members while refusing the prayer for bail. I do not find the finding recorded by the learned Judge any bit excessive, unreasonable or of such judicial quality as to be set aside.

The petition is dismissed.
